Hiring Manager, Bupa Box Hill

Bupa HI Holdings Pty Ltd, Melbourne VIC

RE: Customer Value Specialist — Bupa Box Hill

Dear Hiring Manager,

I am applying for the Customer Value Specialist role at Bupa Box Hill. I am a Mandarin-native, Melbourne-based customer service professional with retail front-of-house experience, a current Victorian driver licence, and a genuine interest in helping people understand and get value from health products. Box Hill's Chinese-speaking community is one I know well, and I would welcome the opportunity to serve members of that community in a role where language and cultural understanding make a real difference.

Earlier this year I worked as a barista and front-of-house reception at HEYTEA in Chadestone, where I managed customer interactions in both English and Mandarin across a high-volume retail environment. My regular position was reception: greeting customers, handling day-to-day transactions, answering product questions, making recommendations based on customer preferences, and making sure every person who walked in felt looked after. That experience — staying calm, staying warm, and staying focused on the customer in front of you even when it is busy — is directly what this role asks for.

Beyond retail, my professional background has been built around understanding what people need and explaining complex information in a way that builds trust. At ECARX I was the primary point of contact between Chinese engineering teams and international OEM partners, managing client relationships and resolving concerns across cultures and time zones. At the NexStar programme with the City of Melbourne, I conducted one-on-one customer advisory sessions and translated customer needs into clear product recommendations — earning the NexStar Excellence Award as top performer across 30+ participants. These experiences have sharpened my instinct for consultative communication: listening first, then offering a recommendation that genuinely fits.

Bupa's focus on health and wellbeing is something I take seriously — I understand that for many members, particularly those from Chinese-speaking backgrounds, having someone who speaks their language and genuinely understands their concerns is the difference between feeling supported and feeling lost. I want to be that person at the Box Hill centre. I hold a current Victorian driver licence, am available from July 2026 with full work rights, and am committed to building the kind of community relationships that keep members coming back.

Thank you for considering my application.

Yours sincerely,

Nora Jin
